How to Edit Your Domain Contact Information

Domain Management · https://www.hyyat.com/en/knowledgebase/edit-domain-contact-information/

In short: To edit domain contact details: Domains → My Domains → click the domain → "Contact Information". Choose the contact (Registrant for the owner, Admin, Tech), select "Specify custom information below", enter the details in English, and click "Save Changes". The owner email matters most: the transfer code and approvals go there.

Domain contact information is the owner and contacts on record with the registry. Keeping it correct proves you own the domain and makes sure renewal and transfer emails reach you.

How to edit domain contact information

1. Log in to the client area with your email and password, or with the Google account linked to it.
2. Open Domains → My Domains and click the domain you want.

1. In the "Manage" sidebar, choose Contact Information.
2. Choose the contact at the top, then Specify custom information below to enter different details, or Use existing account contact to use your account details.
3. Enter the details in English, check the email, then click Save Changes.

Who is each contact?

Who is each contact?

Registrant (owner)

The key one: proves you own the domain
Gets the EPP code and transfer approvals

Admin

The administrative contact

Tech

Contacted about technical matters

Note

Changing the owner name or email can lock transfers for 60 days on some extensions

Contact	Role
Registrant	The owner. The key one: it proves ownership, and the EPP code and transfer approvals go to its email.
Admin	The administrative contact.
Tech	Contacted about technical matters.
Billing	Shown by some registrars, for billing matters.

Before changing the owner: changing the owner name or email on global domains can lock transfers for 60 days, and a confirmation email may go to the old and new addresses that must be approved. For some extensions such as .sa this option does not appear; changes go through a support ticket.

FAQ

Why in English?

Global registries accept Latin characters only in most fields.

Does this change my client account details?

No. Your account details are separate; this only changes the domain.

I got a confirmation email after editing.

Approve it from the link in the email, or the change may not be applied.

Why don't I get the EPP code?

Usually the Registrant email is outdated. Fix it here, then request the code again.
