Domain Auto Renew: How to Turn It On or Off

Domain Management · https://www.hyyat.com/en/knowledgebase/domain-auto-renewal/

> In short: Auto renew means the system issues your domain renewal invoice 30 days before expiry; you pay it and the domain renews. Turn it on or off in: Domains → My Domains → click the domain → "Auto Renew". If you turn it off, no invoice is issued and the domain expires on its date unless you renew it manually.

What does auto renew mean at Hyyat Host?

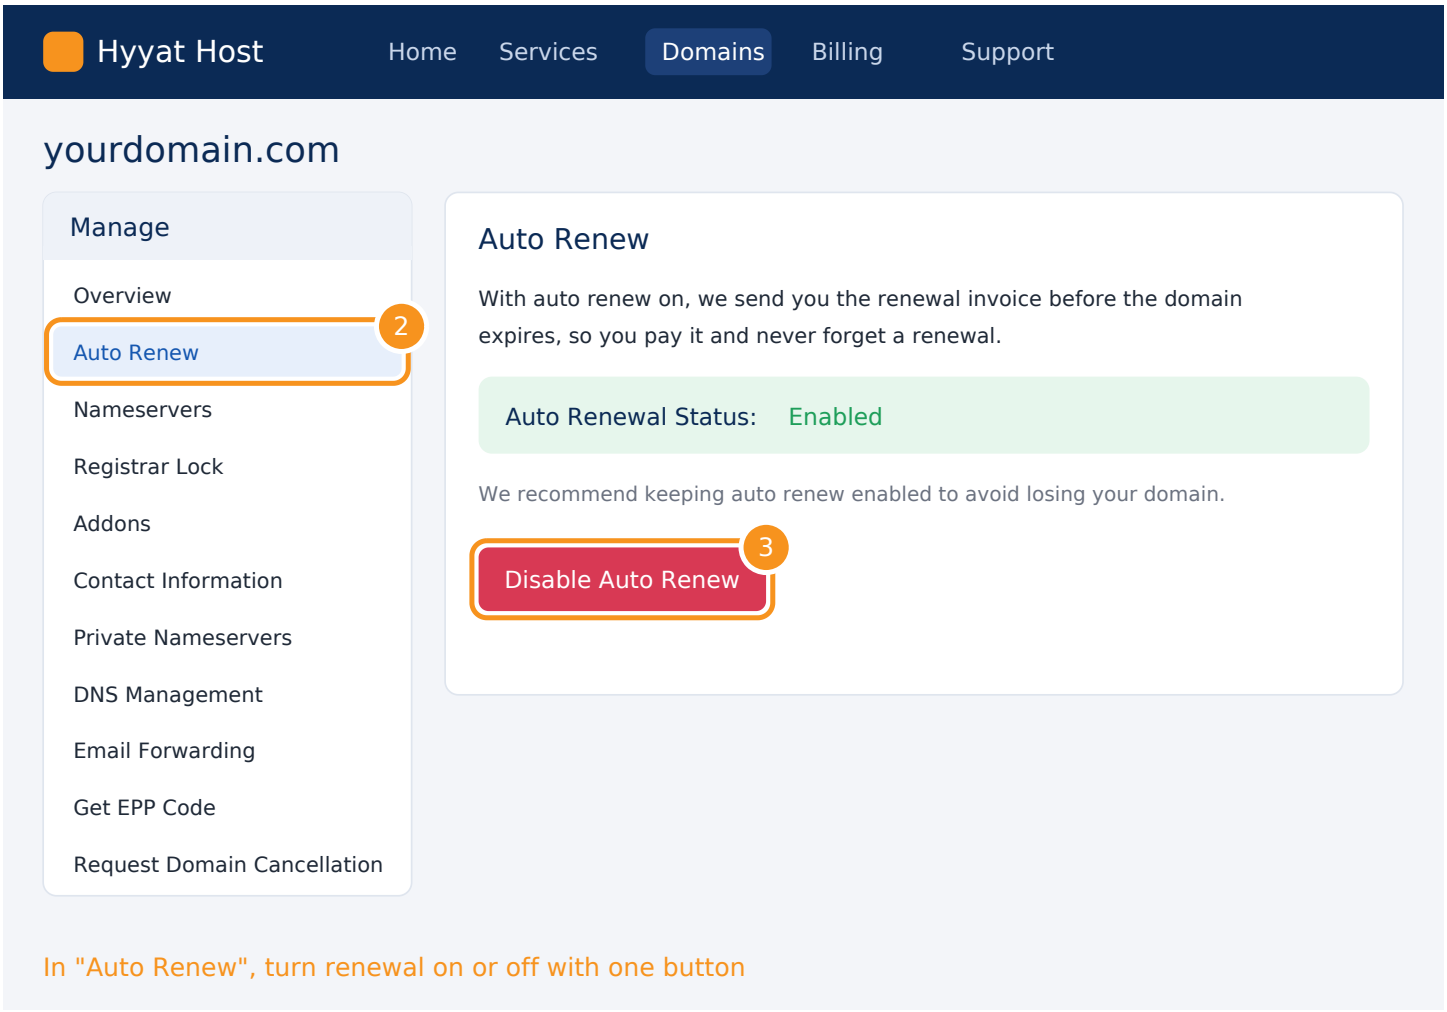

With auto renew on, we send you the renewal invoice 30 days before the domain expires, with an email reminder. The amount is not charged automatically: you pay the invoice with the method you prefer and the domain renews once paid. Auto renew is on by default for every new domain, so you never lose a domain by forgetting.

How to turn auto renew on or off

1. Log in to the client area with your email and password, or with the Google account linked to it.
2. Open Domains → My Domains and click the domain you want.

1. In the "Manage" sidebar, choose Auto Renew.
2. You will see the Auto Renewal Status: "Enabled" or "Disabled". Click Disable Auto Renew to stop it, or Enable Auto Renew to turn it on.

In "Auto Renew", turn renewal on or off with one button

What happens before and after your domain expires?

What happens before and after your domain expires?

Periods depend on the extension; shown for our most used ones

30 days before	Renewal date	Grace period	Redemption	After that
Renewal invoice issued (auto renew)	Pay before it so site and email work	10 days for .com 15 days for .sa Site may stop; renewal possible	25 days Renewal with an extra redemption fee	Domain may be deleted and taken

- 30 days before expiry: the renewal invoice is issued if auto renew is on, and a reminder is emailed to you.
- Renewal date: pay before it so your website and email keep working without interruption.
- Grace period: 10 days for .com, .net and .org, and 15 days for .sa. Your site and email may stop, but renewal is still possible.
- Redemption period: 25 days, and getting the domain back costs an extra redemption fee.
- After that: the domain may be deleted and become available for anyone to register.

Don't need this domain anymore? Instead of leaving the invoice unpaid, submit a domain cancellation request: renewal stops and its pending renewal invoice is cancelled.

FAQ

Is the renewal charged automatically?

No. You receive an invoice and pay it yourself. See payment methods.

When do I get the renewal invoice?

30 days before the domain expires, and it also appears under Invoices.

Can I renew now, before the invoice?

Yes. See renewing your domain manually.

My domain expired; what now?

Renew it right away from Renew Domains while it is in the grace period. If it is past that, open a support ticket and we will tell you the redemption fee.

I turned auto renew off; does my site stop now?

No. The domain works until its expiry date; turning it off only stops the renewal invoice.
