Email Hosting or Business Hosting? Which to Choose for Your Company Email

Email · https://www.hyyat.com/en/knowledgebase/email-hosting-vs-business-hosting/

In shortEmail Hosting gives you professional email on your domain only, and each plan is for one mailbox. It suits you if your website is elsewhere or you need only a few addresses. Business Hosting combines your company website and unlimited mailboxes in one subscription, and suits a team that needs several addresses. At current prices, if you need more than three mailboxes, Business Hosting costs less.

When you decide your company needs professional email like info@company.com, you will find two services: Email Hosting and Business Hosting. Both give you email on your domain; the difference is in the number of mailboxes, whether a website is included, and the cost. This guide helps you choose in two minutes.

The difference at a glance

	Email Hosting	Business Hosting
What it includes	Email only	Company website and email together
Mailboxes	One per plan	Unlimited
Storage	Per mailbox: 5 to 20 GB depending on the plan	For website and email together: from 6 GB depending on the plan
Current price	From $23.99 a year per mailbox	From $77 a year for the website and all mailboxes
Best for	One or two addresses, with your website elsewhere	A team that needs several addresses, plus the company website

Prices are from the Email Hosting and Business Hosting pages at the time of writing; the current price is always on each service page.

Choose Email Hosting if...

- You need only one or two addresses, such as info@ and sales@.
- Your website is hosted elsewhere and you want email kept separate.
- You want a large mailbox for one address with lots of mail and attachments.

Choose Business Hosting if...

- You need an address for every employee, or many addresses such as support@, hr@ and accounts@.
- You want your website and email with one provider and on one invoice.
- You want more resources for your website, with daily, weekly and monthly backups.

A worked example

Example: A company needs 5 mailboxes. With Email Hosting: 5 plans × $23.99 = $119.95 a year, with no website. With Business Hosting (the Hala plan): $77 a year for the website and all five mailboxes, and it can add more mailboxes within the plan's storage.

What about Google Workspace and Microsoft 365?

Both are good if you need collaboration tools such as shared documents and meetings, but they are priced per user per month. If your team only needs professional email, hosting email costs less. The full comparison is in the best business email.

With either option you get

- Email on your domain that works in Outlook, on phones and in webmail. Setup in connecting email to your phone and Outlook.
- Free migration of your current mailboxes and messages from your current provider.
- Support for SPF and DKIM authentication so your email reaches the inbox. Read why emails go to spam.

Summary

- One or two addresses with your website elsewhere: Email Hosting.
- A team that needs many addresses plus the company website: Business Hosting.
- At current prices, more than three mailboxes means Business Hosting costs less.

Choose now: Email Hosting or Business Hosting.

Frequently asked questions

Is an Email Hosting plan for one mailbox?
Yes, each plan is for one mailbox. If you need several, mention the number when ordering, or choose Business Hosting.

Can I start with Email Hosting and move to Business Hosting later?
Yes. Open a ticket and we will arrange the move, including your mailboxes and messages.

Can my website stay with another company while my email is with you?
Yes. The website stays where it is, and you point your domain's MX records to our mail service.

What is the maximum attachment size with Email Hosting?
Up to 50 MB per message.

Which is better for a small company?
If you have a website and need more than three mailboxes, Business Hosting costs less and is simpler. If you need one mailbox and your website is elsewhere, Email Hosting is enough.
